FLICKERS' RHODE ISLAND INTERNATIONAL FILM FESTIVAL ANNOUNCES ITS 2018 AWARD WINNERS

Diverse Group of 295 International Films Shine at Academy-Award Qualifying Festival

(Providence, R.I. • Aug. 12, 2018) – Flickers' Rhode Island International Film Festival (RIIFF) proudly announced the Award Winners for its 36th Anniversary Celebration of Flickers, on Sunday, August 12, 2018. The Annual Awards Ceremony was held at The Metcalf Auditorium, RISD Museum in downtown Providence, RI. This year's Festival ran from August 7-12 and ended with another record-breaking year. Venues were located across the state of Rhode Island – from Newport, Tiverton, Narragansett, North Kingstown, Woonsocket to Warwick -- with the capital city Providence serving as the hub for the film-centric activities.

The Flickers' Rhode Island International Film Festival (RIIFF), a major destination on the Festival circuit and recognized by the Academy as a Qualifying Festival in all short film categories, welcomes stellar filmmaking talents from all over the world to beautiful Providence, Rhode Island—one of America's oldest and most beloved cities. RIIFF embraces both filmmakers and screenwriters with the sort of warm-hearted spirit that fosters long-lasting friendships, sparks exciting creative projects, and inspires artists to return again and again. The World Premiere of Chris Overton's "THE SILENT CHILD" took place at RIIFF last year, received the Festival's Grand Prize and Academy nomination, and went on to receive the coveted Oscar® (<https://vimeo.com/262490275>). Marshall, Flickers' Executive Director. "It was a true pleasure to host over 300 international filmmakers, cast and crew who experienced true Rhode Island hospitality."

Steven Feinberg, Executive Director of the Rhode Island Film & TV Office, said "Splendiferous is the word which best conjures the week that was the 2018 Rhode Island International Film Festival. From the spectacular opening night of packed guests and a variety of cinematic delicacies at the palatial Providence Performing Arts Center to hundreds of international filmmakers hugging out their new friendships at the emotional awards ceremony at the RISD Museum Metcalf Center, this festival is truly one the globe's greatest treasures. On behalf of the State of a Rhode Island and our local film community, I want to congratulate Executive Director George T. Marshall for his perseverance and vision and Shawn Quirk for his tasteful programming along with the professional staff of volunteers and supporters who make the Rhode Island International Film Festival world-renowned, and home of film exploration with heart. "

Director Feinberg continued, "Last year, the world premiere of "Silent Child" happened right here in Providence and the short film went on to win the Academy Award. I would not be surprised if one of these esteemed movies from this year's festival went on to win Oscar gold too because there is an undeniable truth----The Rhode Island International Film Festival makes dreams come true."

"This year, we received an incredible number of inspiring and thought-provoking international films. The talent of the filmmakers who shared their work with us was inspiring and blew us away. Storytelling through the film medium has shown us that we are witnessing a true global Renaissance in the arts. It is a distinct honor to be able to share these groundbreaking films with our audiences," added Shawn Quirk, RIIF's Program Director.

WINIFRED BROWNELL SCHOLARSHIP AWARD

BACKGROUND:

Beginning on Tuesday, August 7, 2018, a special year long "Celebration of Women in Film and Arts" was launched by the Festival. In a recent study by The Center for the Study of Women in Television and Film, at San Diego State University, RIFF was one of 23 "high profile" film festivals in the United States that was surveyed. What was striking about the study was that women accounted for 29 percent of directors, writers, producers, executive producers, editors, and cinematographers working on the indie films screened at the examined U.S. festivals in 2017-18. At the Rhode Island International Film Festival, that number was 41 percent with films selected by an international team of judges for quality, not a quota.

This year, the Festival's percentage is even higher. Out of nearly 300 films screening at RIIF, 193 were created by female writers, directors and producers. That number translates to 65% of all the films at this year's Festival had a woman at the helm.

Here are the official numbers:

FEMALE DIRECTORS: 99
FEMALE PRODUCERS: 72
FEMALE EXECUTIVE PRODUCERS: 22
= 193

FEMALE SCREENWRITERS: 18
FEMALE EDITORS: 48
FEMALE SOUND EDITORS: 14
= 80

TOTAL: 273

To celebrate this achievement, the Festival dedicated this year's event to Dr. Winifred E. Brownell, a groundbreaking educator and Dean Emerita of the Arts and Sciences at the University of Rhode Island. Her visionary work propelled the University to become a leading hub for film media studies and nurtured the Festival during its infancy, spurring it to become the internationally acclaimed event that it is today. The Festival is also establishing a $2,000 annual scholarship in her name that pays recognition to her career championing the arts and humanities at the University of Rhode Island and a leading female voice in higher education.

This year's winner of the Award: Alyssa Botelho, a University of Rhode Island student in the Harrington School of Communication and Media.
